Veteran organizations in this area held appropriate memorial services yesterday and Sunday honoring those who paid the supreme sacrifice in wars in which the United States of America have been involved.

Yesterday in one of the largest attended Memorial Day services held here, featured by one of the largest parades on such an occasion, the members of Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion; Chester W. Terchon Post, V. F. W., and the Joseph A. Schumacher Post, V. F. W., combined their programs. The service was held about the memorial monument at the plot between the Bristol Cemetery and St. Mark's Cemetery. The Boy Scouts joined in the parade. The senior corps of Bracken Post made its initial appearance in natty khaki uniforms. This corps is composed of members who have seen war service.

The opening prayer was by Rabbi Moskovits of the Congregation of Avath Athim, Bristol, who prayed that love, justice, peace and unity might prevail. Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr., was in charge of the program and poppies were dropped from an airplane flying low over the assembled group. The plane was piloted by Lt. Leo J. Riley, Naval Reserve Corps, a member of Joseph A. Schumacher Post, V. F. W., and a former member of the Bracken Post Cadets.

The scheduled speaker, Americo Cortese, assistant district attorney of Philadelphia, failed to arrive for the ceremony.

There were selections by the Bristol High School Band and a Memorial Day reading by Mr. Schmidt. The Rev. Father Foley, assistant rector of St. Mark's Church, offered prayer and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts with their auxiliaries held ritualistic services.

The closing prayer was by the Rev. Vernon Murray, pastor of Croydon Methodist Church.

Let us offer anew our pledge of loyalty to our country and its flag. The new building has been designed by Thomas Henry Moran, of Princeton, N. J., and will be constructed by the low bidder on the contract, Warren Zern, of Pottstown. The plans have been approved by the State.

SELECTIVE SERVICE IMPORTANCE STRESSED

"Only Presence of Adequate System Will Meet National Requirements"

WANT QUERIES EARLY

That a grave and serious misunderstanding of the present duties and functions of the Selective Service System exists on the part of the public is the opinion of not only state and national Selective Service officials, but of members of Selective Service Board, No. 35, with headquarters in the Eastern building, Mill street.

Feeling that the people of this community, and the country as a whole are entitled to know what is being done under Selective Service, Henry M. Gross, state director of the local board and the public in general to a trio of editors regarding the Service, published recently in outstanding newspapers throughout the east. One of these editors strikes the key-note in saying: "The functions of the Selective Service System cannot be turned on and off at will, like a faucet. Time is the essence of military preparedness, and only the presence of an adequate system susceptible of immediate action will meet the national requirements."

In his statement, Mr. Gross advises: "Although inductions are not presently required of the Selective Service System, there can be no lessening of the continuing emphasis on the requirement that all 18-year-old men register at the time they reach such registration age. It is of utmost importance that classification activities be continued during the present period when

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan (Distributed by International News Service)

Things MUST be getting tough . . . 14 men are so desperate they're willing to run for mayor of New York.

It's really NOT a tough job . . . any fellow who can keep eight million people happy would do. But can Milton Berle spare the time?

That would be a switch . . . any office holder who was a comic going in.

Mayor of New York is supposed to be the biggest job next to the presidency but Franklin Jr., bought his commutation ticket to Washington two weeks too soon.

Or as the old lady remarked as she fried the sardine "Now let me tell you about the big one that got away."

Anyway, Memorial Day opened the picnic season but O'Dwyer sure opened it two days early for Tammany.

I hear the fire department has been called out three times already to smoke-filled rooms.

WEAK-HEARTED DEFENSE

William Z. Foster, national chairman of the communist party in the United States, is not being tried on conspiracy charges with his 11 colleagues in New York. He was indicted, but Judge Medina granted him a severance because he has a weak heart. He really does have one, but its weakness hasn't kept him from writing a 27,000-word attack on the trial in a vein that will win approbation from Moscow.

All the evidence brought forward at the trial to prove that communism seeks to overturn governments by force and violence, Foster says, is "a lie." Marx, Lenin, Engels and Stalin, he says, were not advocating violence, and anything that purports to prove they were is a misquotation.

Yet Foster himself, when Earl Browder was head of the party, headed a clique opposed to carrying collaboration so far as Browder did, and Foster won his fight in 1945 when Browder was deposed for "revisionism" and Foster took his place. Since then, Foster has joined communist leaders in other countries in saying that if the United States fought Russia he would be for Russia.

Foster makes much of the often criticized Schneiderman decision of eight years ago, when the U. S. Supreme Court held that it was a "tenable conclusion" that the communist party here did not advocate force and violence in 1927. That is hardly proof, as the court merely decided that the contention was unproven.

It has yet to rule on the considerable stronger evidence in the New York case. The party's views in 1927 are beside the point, anyway, since its policy veered sharply in 1945.

Foster also pretends that the communist party does not insist on the Russian pattern — that communist leaders have warned against tendencies to "transfer mechanically" the experience of one country to another. That is sound advice for revolutionists or anybody else. But has it been followed in the case of a dozen nations swallowed by the Russian octopus?

Foster's defense of communism is weaker than his heart.

Charged With Obtaining Funds, False Pretenses

DOYLESTOWN, May 31 — Mrs. Florence Simpson, Telford, is charged with obtaining money under false pretense growing out of a real estate transaction Oct. 2, 1947. She went on trial Friday without a jury.

The first witness for the Commonwealth, Elmer Kaucher, testified that on Oct. 2, 1947, he became interested in real estate.

"The witness testified he paid $50 as an option until a down payment for $700 at the second meeting. The property was held at $3400," said Kaucher.

Frederick E. Smith, counsel for the prosecutor, produced the cancelled $700 check which was endorsed by the defendant.

"I read about the property and Mrs. Simpson represented herself as an agent."

"The day of settlement was to be Nov. 24. I signed my name to a sale of agreement. Mrs. Simpson also signed her name."

"The property involved contains about 4 acres and is located in Hilltown township. I was to obtain the mortgage and she was to deliver the property. I kept calling her and asking what the delay was. I arranged to get a mortgage."

"She said there was some mix-up but that I was in the driver's seat. I got notice by mail that she was unable to deliver the property by Nov. 24," said Kaucher.

"I tried to get the money back and Mrs. Simpson said Mr. Lydick had it and Lydick said Mrs. Simpson had it."

"I have not received the money back, nor any deed to a property," Kaucher, who is 23, is a steeple-jack.

The case was continued on Saturday until such time as a Perkins and a Lansdale lawyer can be summoned as witnesses.

the American Legion Auxiliary award, (Bracken Post Auxiliary, 382). They are Rose Ann Tumminia and James Rappo.

A selection was played by the Cadet Corps after which, Mr. Schmidt introduced the following: Henry Kornstedt, commander of Terchon Post; William Pascoe, commander of Schumacher Post; Lawrence McCoy, commander of Bracken Post; and Felix Tomlinson, commander of Bucks County Council of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Willard S. Curtin, Esq., was introduced and addressing those assembled said: "I always feel greatly honored when asked to participate in Memorial day services. On May 5, 1868, John R. Logan, as commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, penned a declaration to all Civil War veterans that thereafter May 30th would be observed as Decoration Day 'for the purpose', wrote he, 'of strewing flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in the hope that it will be kept up from defense of their country with the year to year.'

"Thus was started our most solemn of national holidays and which has become the most sombre of our holidays. This day reminds us of those of our dead, most of them young men and women, who gave up their most cherished and valuable possessions—their very lives—in order that our way of life may survive.

"A mental review of our history will disclose a similarity in all our wars. They were all fought by us either because of hatred of bigotry, racial discrimination, aggression and injustice; or because of our sympathy for the underdog who was getting a raw deal.

"This being so, isn't it our duty as good citizens to live with our lives, the ideals that our veterans living and dead have fought to preserve?

"Remember, when we used to hear the expression 'he is a foreigner.' Thank heavens, these days that expression is dying out. You know everyone of us here today is the child or descendant of a foreigner—the child or descendant of some person or persons who came to this country to get away from these things that all of us hate. It is this very fusing of foreigners from every land that has produced the country that we have today.

"Therefore, when anyone asks what we are or what our neighbor is we should keep in mind one thing only, regardless of race, color or religion. We or they are Americans first, last and all the time, and we must all be followers of one 'ism' only, and that is Americanism. It is only if we stand shoulder to shoulder with our neighbors in remembering this that we are going to preserve those principles in our country which heroic dead died for and only if we do this can we be sure that they will not have died in vain.

"This is a time in our history when it is imperative that all good Americans stand shoulder to shoulder. We are all familiar with the struggle in the world today, the titanic struggle between two ideologies or ways of life—Communism on one hand and free enterprise on the other hand. We are all familiar with the fact that our country stands at the forefront of those nations opposing the spread of this Communism. Hence it is all important that we, during these days, think and act as good Americans. Let us not do anything to promote discord among ourselves which gives comfort to the leaders of those countries who are opposing us. Let us not do anything which will encourage or aid or add to any 'fifth column' in our midst."

In closing Mr. Curtin said: "Let us always remember that these, our war dead, died that America might live as a free America and the hope of all oppressed peoples."

Benediction was given by William Alderdice, who asked everyone to stand a moment in silence in memory of the war dead. A squad fired a salute, followed by taps.

The speaker, the Rev. Mr. Kulp, reminded how Jesus chose the children as an example to the multitude, admonishing: "Except you become as little children, you cannot enter the Kingdom of God." He reminded that "Jesus saw in the children no embarrassment, no worry, no fear. The child lives in a spiritual world; he doesn't know material things. The adult is expected to combine all these things a child has, along with stability. The adult is expected to add wisdom, maturity, stability. We ask ourselves the question 'Who is sufficient for these things?' We feel an insufficiency in ourselves. But Paul's answer to that question was

The speaker commented that one of the great blessings of Memorial day is that "we can take stock of ourselves." He spoke of the interdependence of each person upon one another in the world, then referred to Congressman Judd's recent reminder after the latter had stated that there are in reality two worlds (a world split down the middle) that "we can become one world by either one of two methods—by conquering or by agreeing." ## Selective Service Importance Stressed

The local board, along with others, is stressing the importance of young men who receive questionnaires filing them in and returning same promptly. Such are now being sent to service veterans and married men so they may be re-classified. Class 3-A is for married men; Class 4-A, veterans; Class 5-A, those over age of liability for service (anyone having reached his 26th birthday anniversary).

The personnel of Evans No. 35 here is: Harry C. Evans, Bristol, chairman; William Christman, Fallsington; Russell Harding, Morrisville. The clerk is Miss Mary Brennan.

One New York paper recently commented editorially in part: "In slashing the appropriation for the Selective Service System to one-fourth the requested amount the House of Representatives is being penny wise and pound foolish. True economy demands a better allocation of funds so as to get more service from the same or less money. Knocking the bottom out of the Selective Service System will not achieve that end."

"General Hershey, commenting on the House action, brought forward two arguments against such a slash. The first is that the very existence of the system is a major reason for the high enlistments that are now cited as the basis for curtailing it. He pointed out that recruiting advanced sharply as soon as the draft law was enacted. The second is that the entire framework of the system is a gigantic insurance policy in case of trouble and that the premiums on the policy should not be discontinued."

An editorial recently appearing in a Philadelphia paper included this: "Whatever hope there may be for peace lies in maintaining this nation's unmistakable determination to meet any war emergency more than half way. It should be possible at an instant's notice to put the machinery in motion to bring our armed forces up to full strength. To do that it is necessary to maintain a nation-wide organization to set up records for men becoming eligible for service and to keep the records of those already in the files."

"If all this is done away with, the draft will become an empty gesture, a mockery to those who enlisted because the law was passed, and the laughing stock of those abroad who are waiting only for signs of relaxation here to renew the vigor of their plotting for conquest."

ST. ANN'S SURPRISES INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE BY A CLOSE VICTORY

St. Ann's A. A. surprised the followers of the Trenton Industrial League, Sunday, by nosing out the second-place Micharski team, 4-3, on Memorial Park field. It was the second time this season that the "Saints" beat the losers.

A home run from the stick of "Freddie" Barbetta and "Toby" Oriola's two-bagger came in the fifth inning with two out. He took a toe-hold on one of "Johnny" Soss's pitches and sent it along the right field lines into the canal.

Oriola's blow enabled Joe Sallustio to scoot across the plate with the winning run in the seventh. Two were also out when Oriola made his winning knock. Sallustio was on base as the result of an error.

"Danny" Keegan hurled the Wood streeters to the win. Although tabbed for nine hits, Keegan was given excellent support by his mates who handled 18 assists in the field, including a double-play and a fine relay which killed a runner at the plate.

"Rabbit" Palumbo had a triple and double to lead the batters while Oriola had a single in addition to his two-bagger.

HIBERNIANS DEFEAT EDELY

In a Suburban League game on Memorial field last evening, the Hibernians trounced the Edgely A. C., 14-0, for its first win of the season. It was the fourth straight loss for the Edgelyites.

Bristol Moose Enters Softball Team League

The Bristol Lodge of Moose has entered a softball team in the Eastern Inter-Moose League. The Bristol organization was the winner of this loop last season and is out to retain its championship. "Gene" Dugan, well-known former semi-pro player, has been appointed manager of the local team and all indications point to a well-balanced softball aggregation.

Manager Dugan has called practice for tomorrow evening. First he would like to see all players at the Moose Home, Radcliffe street, to receive their uniforms.

Dugan will mould his team around several standouts of last season, including "Chuck" Stansky and "Hystic" Grimes.

The opening game for the locals will be on Sunday, June 5, when it meets the Willow Grove Moose. The resident team will play all its home games on Sunday afternoons on Memorial Park field.

TULLYTOWN A. C. WINS

TULLYTOWN A. C. lambasted three Second Ward hurlers for 15 hits Sunday on Memorial Park field as it smothered the Second Ward A. C., 15-4, in a one-sided contest. It was the first defeat of the season in the Bristol Suburban Softball League for the Warders and the fifth straight triumph for the Tullytown lads.

VOLTZ NINE WINS OVER LEWIS LODGE BY THE SCORE 7-4

Voltz - Texaco won its fourth straight game of the Bristol Suburban Baseball League last evening as it beat the Lewis Lodge of Elks, 7-4, on Leedom's field.

Five runs in the first and two in the second gave the gammen the triumph and another pitching victory for "Lenny" Jones. The five markers were scored on hits by "Mickey" Mandio, "Sid" Purcell, and Cross, coupled with two errors and two fielder's choices.

Jones set down the Elks in order in the first three innings but ran into trouble in the fourth, when two walks and hits by Hardy Johnson and Matt Bragg produced two runs. But the big lead of the Oilers was too much to overcome.

Purcell had three out of four to lead the winners with the stick, while Bragg and Johnson had two hits each for the Elks.

Large Crowd Sees Second Ward Take First Place

The largest crowd of the season was on hand at Memorial Park field last evening as the Second Ward A. C. took undisputed possession of first place in the Bristol Suburban Softball League with a 6-5 extra-inning victory over Franklin A. C. Gene Barbetta's hit to left field, scoring Cochrane from third base provided Second Ward with the winning marker.

Two home runs were hit in the game. In the first, "Jim" Sottile, Second Ward, hit a four-bagger with two on base, while in the sixth Tony Palumbo hit for the circuit with the bases bare. Palumbo and Barbetta had three hits each.
